Capuchino,

We are three days into distance learning and I wanted to write and express my immense gratitude to each of you, our students. Our attendance rates have been consistent with what we traditionally see for in-person classes to begin the year. I want to specifically shout out your willingness to jump into this realm so actively. Based on the classes I have observed and feedback received, you are embracing Zoom as a learning environment. I have never been prouder of each of you and am so glad to be a Mustang. I miss seeing each of you on campus and look forward to the time when this can occur. For now, please keep it up! Your hard work matters.

If you have questions, affirmations, or feedback, I hope that you will continue to reach out. For specific technology needs, please continue to use this form. We are awaiting a delivery of hot spots and are eager to distribute those once they become available.

In community,

Jesse Boise
